Peculiar Circumstances Develop
When Special Venire is Drawn
For Trabue-Martin Suit.

$5,000 DAMAGE CASE TO START

Widman, L. E. & W. Case Drags
Along in Circuit Court But Will go to Jury Tonight.

The first big case of local interest of the present term of court will start Monday in the circuit court, when the $5,000 damage suit of Mrs. Leora A. Trabue, wife of Harry Trabue, against Benjamin F. Martin will be called. In expectations of some difficulty in securing a jury, Judge Sparks ordered a special venire of fifteen names drawn for jury service.

An incident of rather peculiar circumstances attended the drawing of the names. Five of the fifteen men were neighbors of Mr. Martin, the defendant in the suit and two of these were his brothers-in-law, Amos Glidden and Charles Elwell. Samuel H. Trabue, father-in-law of Mrs. Trabue, the plaintiff, was also drawn for jury service. The jury commissioner did not allow any of the relatives of either party to be counted in the venire.

The special venire is as follows: John Hangerford, Orange township; Herman D. Miller, Anderson; A. H. Morris, Rushville; H. E. Gaffin, Union; W. P. White, Washington; I. O. Harrison, Anderson; J. W. Trowbridge, Center; Sullivan Hood, Ripley; W. R. Martin, Union; John Poppoon, Washington; Charles Holden, Noble, and O. P. Morton Hinchman, Union.

The damage suit against Mr. Martin is the outgrowth of an accident in which Mrs. Trabue alleges she was injured when the buggy in which she was riding was hit by the automobile driven by Martin. Her husband, Harry C. Trabue, has a similar suit pending against Mr. Martin.

In the complaint it is stated that the buggy was hurled into a ditch when struck by the machine. Negligence on the part of Mr. Martin is alleged as a basis for the suit. The parties to the action are well known. Mr. Martin lives in Washington township. The accident occurred near Mays in the summer of 1914.

The damage suit of Charles Wid-

HER "SHIP" COMES INTODAY

Miss Henrietta Coleman Receives
Refund on European Rail Ticket.

Miss Henrietta Coleman's "ship" literally came in this morning. She received the refund from European railroads which was paid for a ticket to tour Europe during the summer of 1914. It will recalled that Miss Coleman and her party of tourists which she was conducting were detained in Italy because of the outbreak of the war and had to sail for home at the first opportunity. Miss Coleman said the railroads promised then to refund the money, but she had about given up hope of ever receiving it. Miss Helen Scott and Miss Genevieve Brown, local school teachers, were in the party.

RED ADAMS GETS 65 DAYS AT FARM

Changes His Plea to Guilty and is Fined $25 and Costs to Which is Added 30 Days.

MAY DISMISS OTHER CHARGE

A change of plea to guilty to a charge of public intoxication resulted in Omer (Red) Adams drawing sixty-five days at the state penal farm. When arraigned yesterday Adams entered a plea of not guilty but after thinking the matter over decided he was guilty, and was brought before Mayor Bebout this afternoon.

It was his fourth offense on the same charge. Mayor Bebout fined him $25 and costs and added thirty days. Adams stated he could not pay the fine, and will be taken to the farm Monday to begin his sentence.

The grand larceny charge in the circuit court growing out of the intoxication case, will likely be dismissed. Both charges were filed by George Bell, of near Mays.

GOOD-BYE STRAW HATS.

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—Forty thousand straw hats will go up in smoke tonight, when the Retail Merchant board will open the annual fall style show here. For the past week city and rural boys have been sneaking father's hats to the big pile.

LOST BOY KEPT TWO MEN BUSY

Will Spivey Restored David Powers
Age 8, of Dayton, Who is Visiting Here, to Relatives

BUT IT WAS SOME JOB AT THAT

Youthful Visitor Insisted Direction to Place he Was Visiting Was
Opposite to Real Way

David Powers, age eight years, son of Alfred Powers of Dayton, Ohio, formerly of this city, kept Will Spivey, Nightwatchman Ray Lakin, the police and the fire department busy last night for more than an hour when he got lost from home and insisted on going in just the opposite direction from the right one.

The little Powers boy started from Charles Berry's grocery store at the corner of Second and Harrison streets to go to the Gem theater. He never got there else there would have been no "lost-boy story" and Will Spivey would have been saved a dozen or so pounds of surplus flesh he lost in perspiration—or was it just plain sweat!

The boy wound up by Martin Kelly's blacksmith shop in South Main street and that's how Will Spivey worked into this story. Will hangs out at Oneal Brothers and he spied the boy standing in front of the blacksmith shop looking it over. He thought it looked familiar because his cousin "Bud" O'Neil, works there.

It didn't take a Pinkerton detective to tell the boy was lost. Will Spivey thought he would do a good turn and he questioned the boy. Young Mr. Powers remembered that he was visiting Michael O'Neil's but he didn't even know his own sister's name.

Mr. Spivey decided that he would get the boy home. He led him around the business part of town trying to get the lad to tell him which way he ought to go to get home. It was some time before the boy told them he was visiting up at O'Neil's. When that very important fact was learned, Will called up O'Neil's and said he said he would either send or bring the boy home.

He started up Main street and found Ray Lakin, nightwatchman. Mr. Lakin said he would take the boy home in his automobile. They went to the corner of Third and Main streets and started to turn west into Third street.

But that was where the youthful visitor from Dayton showed that he had a mind of his own. He had decided that he was staying at some point east of the corner of Third and Main streets. He persisted and Nightwatchman Lakin and Will Spivey did likewise. They started in the direction of O'Neil's home but the boy eluded them and ran across Main street to the Mauzy company's store. Then the crowd down at the fire engine house gave the lost boy hunters the laugh.

But, to make a long story short, they finally persuaded him that he was wrong and took him to Ray Lakin's machine and he was restored to his father.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Gary, Ind., Sept. 18.—When two home-grown bandits saw Michael Kosko walking quietly through a wood in his priest attire they thought they saw an easy mark and ordered him to take off his coat. Kosko did so, and then sailed in and knocked out the pair with his fists. The two are today awaiting a hearing before the grand jury under heavy bond.

"LEMO" GLASS MUST DEPART

If State Food and Drug Department
Has Its Way, There Will be no
More at County Fair.

LETTER TO THE SECRETARY

Paper Cups or Other Individual Service Cups Will be Required Next
Year, it is Stated.

The lemonade glass, a familiar object at all stands and concessions at the county fair, will pass out of existence, if the state food and drug department is to have its way. The fate of the glass is sealed and it will go the same way in which the old tin cup went.

The state department has been attempting to better sanitary conditions surrounding stands and the latest decree is that next year and in years to come vendors of lemonade and all soft drinks at fairs and circenses shall use paper cups or other individual service cups. H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, has written J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush county fair, complimenting him on the conditions of the stands at the last fair, but urging that they be even better for next year.

In his letter Mr. Barnard states that next year all applicants for stand privileges should be told that sanitary cups will be required, and that the department will see that the order is enforced. The order was issued this year, but came too late for many of the stand men and concession people coming from other states. The order was enforced here as near as possible, but it was impossible to make all comply with the order. The warning is thus given now for next year that there will be no excuse.

The letter from the food and drug commissioners is as follows:

"I am glad to be able to tell you that the sanitary conditions at the food and privilege stands at the fairs throughout the state this season have been much better than in other years. This statement also applies to the character of the foods and drinks served. We believe we have made material progress in the way of cleanliness and in the protection of the health of the public.

"We were not wholly successful in eliminating unwashed and dirty glasses, but we did see much improvement. Another year we shall not allow the use of glasses for serving cool drinks, and it may be well for you to inform applicants for concession space that hereafter we shall require them to use paper cups or other individual service cups.

"Thanking you for your co-operation during the season of 1915, and anticipating your effective help in 1916, I am,

Yours truly,

H. E. BARNARD,
State Food and Drug Commissioner.

Father of Boy Who Was Killed in Tank Scrap Brings Action.

(By United Press.)

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 18.—Purdue university was today made defendant in a $25,000 damage suit growing out of the tank scrap of 1913 when Francis Obenchain suffered a broken neck, from which he died.

Abraham L. Obenchain of South Whitley, Ind., the father alleges the scrap was organized and conducted by the university authorities who knew its brutal nature, and that employees of the university by threats of lost prestige induced his son to take part.

ATTACKS ARE UNPROVOKED

Carranzistas Demand Probe of Actions of American Soldiers.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Investigation of charges that American soldiers made an unprovoked attack on Carranzista troops near Brownsville was formally asked of the state department by Eliseo Arreondo, Carranza agent here.

It was also requested that steps be taken to keep Texas rangers and United States troops from firing indiscriminately "upon peaceful Mexicans across the border."

AMERICAN POWERS MEET

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 18.—Appointment of a commission to canvass General Carranza's claims for recognition may result for this afternoon's meeting between Secretary Lansing and diplomats representing the Central and South American powers.

The Mexican question appeared nearer a solution when this afternoon's conference opened than when the last meeting was held and the diplomats were correspondingly optimistic. They refused to forecast what action would be taken other than to say the conference would not recommend any candidate for the Mexican presidency.

OX ROAST NOTHING NEW TO VENERABLE WOMAN OF HARRISBURG, FAYETTE COUNTY

Mrs. Nancy Hackleman, Who Had

SHE HELPED SERVE THEN, TOO

Of all the people who went from Fayette county to the District Republican Rally and Ox Roast at Rushville, Wednesday, perhaps the most deeply interested, and surely the most venerable was Mrs. Nancy Hackleman, of Harrison township says the Connersville News. Mrs. Hackleman resolved to go to the roast as soon as she heard of the plans. She did go, and was honored by a seat in a rocking chair on the platform. With her sat Ann Bowles of Milroy, ninety-four years of age. Mrs. Hackleman is ninety-three. The two aged ladies listened attentively and at the close of James E.

ADMITS THAT HE PERJURED SELF

But Ernest Roeder, State Witness
in Bell Case, Says That he Was Told to Do So.

BEFORE OTHER GRAND JURY

Exposes System by Which Votes
Were Bought in Election—
Three Voted Falsely.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—When the defense in the Mayor Joseph E. Bell's election corruption conspiracy trial today cross-examined Ernest Roeder, a confessed conspirator who testified to buying votes on orders from higher-ups, he admitted that before a previous grand jury he had testified the election was without fraud.

"Then you perjured yourself," shouted attorney Ryan.

"Yes, but I was told to do so," replied Roeder.

The defense could not get this answer off the record but the state was not allowed to bring out who told Roeder to perjure himself. Court adjourned at noon until Monday.

On election day Roeder bought and paid for votes at Bud Gibson's precinct, he testified today. The money was given him by Bud Gibson after Gibson had talked with Herman Adams and Mayor Bell, he said.

Roeder admitted that he gave his list of twelve names of alleged voters to the poll taker when the latter called at Gibson's saloon. Gibson and Roeder were partners in the saloon business.

Roeder exposed a system by which Pat Stewart, inspector, would give checks to voters. He said he and Gibson redeemed these checks for $1 or $2.

"We staled them for $1 when we could," he said.

He admitted that he took 25 of these redeemable checks into Stewart so Stewart could pass them out again.

Mayor Bell, chief Perrott and Herman Adams visited the polls and talked to the party workers, said Roeder.

Following one of Bell's visit, Gibson had more money than he had before, Roeder said. He testified of sending in three repeaters from Goose Costello's auto and having

RETURN FROM GIRL'S FUNERAL AND FIND THAT HER FATHER HAD DIED

Relatives Tell of Ravages of Typhoid
Fever in Family of Leander
Hilligoss, Once Local Man.

SECOND DAUGHTER IS DYING

Relatives here of Leander Hilligoss, formerly of this county, who went to the funeral of his youngest daughter, Ruth, Friday, at Hazelrigg, Boone county, were doubly sorrowful when they returned home Friday evening because Mr. Hilligoss had died of typhoid fever, the same disease which killed Ruth, while the girl's body was being buried.

Besides two deaths in as many days in the family, a second daughter, Agnes, the eldest, was afflicted with the same disease and local relatives reported today that the physician said Friday afternoon that she could not live more than twenty-four hours.

It was known that Mr. Hilligoss' condition was very critical and it was impossible for him to attend the funeral of his daughter. It was a deep shock to the widow and other survivors to return from the girl's funeral and learn that her father had died during their absence.

Mr. Hilligoss was about sixty years old and was born and reared in this county and lived about a mile and one-half south of here.

He left here about twenty-five years. He was a cousin of D. M. Hilligoss, living near Rushville, and a brother of George Hilligoss, living near Moscow.

Mr. Hilligoss is survived by the widow and daughter and the following brothers, besides George: Omer, Alexandria, North Dakota, Elmer and Oscar of Indianapolis, Sullivan of Galveston, Texas and Clayton of Tacoma, Washington. He also had one sister living in Muncie, Ind.

VISITORS ARE WELL IMPRESSED

Two Newspapers Comment on Rushville Cluster Lights and Condition of "Dustless Streets."

SHELBYVILLE LIKES THEM

Rushville made an impression on many visitors here Wednesday and some of them broke into print because newspaper men were the ones who were impressed. The editor of the Newcastle Courier says that Newcastle merchants saw a lot more cluster lights at Rushville. Newcastle wants cluster lights badly and has petitioned the Henry county commissioners to buy and install some ornamental lights.

The editor of the Shelbyville Republican commented on the condition of the streets and the fact that they were so well preserved and there was no dust flying due to the use of oil.

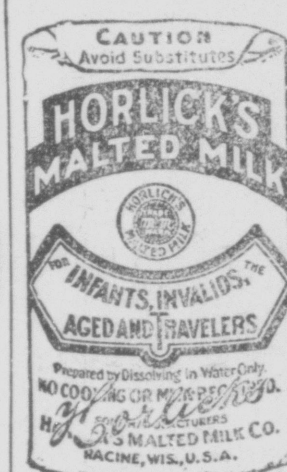

"The hundreds of people who were in Rushville on Wednesday of this week," he says, "were agreeably impressed by the appearance of the 'dustless town.' Most every street in the city is oiled and oiled with the right kind of material, not oil pumped out of a local well or drippings from gas works, but oil that has had been boiled into a very large percent of asphalt. The result of the oiling in Rushville is that the streets have not been worn this summer, there has been no dust and the people have not had to sprinkle the streets three to five times a day. When the contract was let last spring for the oiling of the streets in that town the contract called for a first and second oiling. The job was so thoroughly done that the second oiling was not required."

A Double Basis

The talk of peace now has both financial and religious basis. In the first place the fall of the value of the pound sterling is significant, as England was supposed to be the strongest financial power among the belligerents and the one to supply money to all the Allies. It is impossible to fail to see in this situation a factor for making peace.

With regard to the efforts of the Pope to bring the warring nations to a discussion of terms of peace, it was pointed out that he is highly interested in the restoration of Poland, which is a Catholic country. As a matter of fact the Allies are anti-Catholic, Russia being completely in opposition to the Holy See while anti-clericalism rules in France, and England has its own state body in opposition to the Roman body. On the other hand Austria is a Catholic country and in Germany there are 20,000,000 Roman Catholics who enjoy equal rights with the Protestants and share in the dignities of state.

He Means Well

The Greensburg Times, a Blown-in-the-bottle, free trade, Democracy or-die newspaper, has quite a time trying to dope out how many people were here for the ox roast. The Times expounds at length about the office-mad politicians and winds up by getting no place, except to say that newspaper prediction ranged from 7,000 to 10,000, with the exception that the Rushville Jacksonian guessed it at from 3,500 to 4,000. The Times editor had not yet read Blodgett's story, which put the crowd at from 8,000 to 10,000, or he would have incorporated that too. Or would he? It is much to be regretted that the Times editor could not have been here. He needs a chance to see a big crowd once.

"Meanwhile, stand by Wilson," he concludes, which was considerably off the point but he can not be criticized for such an unseemly digression.

Humor Going to Waste

One of the Richmond newspapermen here for the ox roast Wednesday said in his paper Thursday that the conservative estimate placed on the crowd was 10,000, but that half of them were women and children; only 4,500 of the other 5,000 were voters, that 3,000 of the men were politicians and "wheel-horses." He states it as though it were positive fact. Whether he had a counting machine and means to place each one of the 10,000 persons in his or her class is not known. He probably did not know that but two of the ten isles in the serving tent were used by women and children and that there were not enough of them, but their isle was used by men frequently. Instead of being a sporting editor, he should be working for Puck where his humor would be appreciated.

The deficit for the first two months of the present fiscal year amounted to $30,003,152.

MAKES APPEAL TO YOUNG MEN

Republican State Chairman Hays Sends Letter Urging Stronger Interest in Politics.

URGES THEM TO JOIN A PARTY

Then Makes Vigorous Plea For Their Union With Great Republican Party of Prosperity.

(Special to Daily Republican.) Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican state committee, today issued an open letter to the young men in Indiana, appealing strongly for "a larger interest in the politics of the country." This letter is the second edition of one issued a year ago, during the heat of the 1914 campaign. In his appeal to the young men of the state, Chairman Hays, head of one of the two big political organizations of Indiana, pleads with the young voters to actively interest themselves in the affairs of "some party." He then makes a vigorous plea for them to join "our fighting force and become a potent part of this great Republican party of protection and prosperity."

Mr. Hays' letter to the young men

of Indiana, in part, follows:

Become interested in politics. What we need more than all else in this country is an increased participation by the good citizens of the country in the actual politics of the nation. Perform your duty of citizenship in time of peace as you would in time of war. To which party you may now be inclined is of less importance than that you seek the truth, and finding it, act, and then act continually.

I have an absolute conviction that if the citizens of the country interest themselves sufficiently in the politics of the nation, the right principles will be practiced and able and conscientious candidates elected.

Be not influenced by prejudice nor moved by passion. Study the histories of the great parties; see what they have accomplished in the past and what they promise for the future, and then, in every instance, make up your mind and act accordingly. And let us be certain that we "join ourselves to no party that does not follow the flag and keep step to the music of the Union."

Personally, after the most conscientious study, I became convinced that the Republican party has been the most potent power of practical progression ever devised by men; that it has formulated the statutes, written the great laws, advanced the theories and carried out the great principles that have made this country "the Mystery of the ages, the mightiest miracle of time."

The Republican party is the party of the future and shall continue to be the one agency in this country to apply to new conditions the wisdom of experience and the efficacy of honest, zealous service. Its past performance of fifty years is the guarantee of its future fulfillment. The party of Abraham Lincoln can be trusted now "to be true even as he was true" to the rights of men and their full freedom.

And so to the young men in Indiana I appeal: First, to actively interest yourselves in the affairs of some party; and second, and most earnestly and sincerely I urge you to join our fighting force and become a potent part of this great Republican party of protection and prosperity, with an absolutely equal voice and full participation in the management of the party's affairs with every other man in the party. And this I ask for a purpose far greater than the success of the party for the ultimate goal "that no harm shall come to the Republic."

GAME PLAYED IN RAIN WON BY ELKS

Proved Better Ducks Than Red Men and Handed Them Shut Out, Winning by 12 to 0.

BIG DOINGS IN SECOND FRAME

The Elks proved better ducks than the Red Men yesterday afternoon and won an alleged ball game by a score of 12 to 0. The game was played in the rain and was slowed down considerably because of the wet condition of the grounds.

The Elks had one big inning—the second—when they scored eight runs. Stoops, pitching for the Red Men, evidently believed that the rain would stop the game and the team did not put up much of a defense. When the game was continued the runs made in this inning were enough to win. In the second inning fourteen men faced Stoops. He issued five bases on balls and with five hits, netting the Elks eight runs. It was an awful inning, and was played in the rain at that.

Orme, pitching for the Elks, held the Red Men safe all the way. Not a man reached third base and they had only one chance to score and that was in the last inning. In this frame the Red Men got as far as second base with none out. They were unable to put the run across, however as the next three proved easy.

IOWA HOPES FOR WINNING TEAM

Coach Hawley Believes He Will Put Across Championship Team in His Final Year

MANY OLD MEN WILL BE BACK

(By United Press.)
 Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 18.—Hawley's hardy Hawkeyes have set their cap to catch a conference championship. This year will be his last as an Iowa coach and it has always been his ambition, earned through five years behind the Old Gold, to help coach a title team.

Of Iowa's 1911 team backfield quartet but one man, Parsons, will be gone. Gross, Donnelly, Wills and Kerwick, all letter men from last year, will return. In addition there will be Laun, Davis and Zastrop from last year's freshman team. Davis will be found in the regular lineup, probably alternating with Gross between half and quarter.

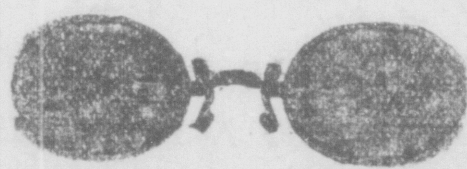

Captain Barron remains the mainstay of the line, and it is here that Coach Hawley is to have his problem. Wilson and Jacobsen are the only other veterans. The chief trouble is to be in filling the end positions. Erickson may develop into a find for one of the wings. Kelley and Bowlesby, freshmen last year, and Grab and Triplett, two of the 1914 scrubs, are all likely candidates. McKee is a big man and may find a place in the line. He was freshman fullback last year. Wyland, from the freshman team, is looked upon as a certainty for center.

MICHIGAN BRIGADE BEING MOBILIZED

Tuesday Actual Training of Coach

Fielding H. Yost's Squad Will be Started

EIGHT "M" MEN ARE IN FOLD

(By United Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18.—Coach Fielding H. Yost today was mobilizing Michigan's 1915 gridiron brigade. Tuesday actual training of the squad will start.

Thirty-three men—the pick of those eligible from last year's varsity, from the reserves and from the All-Fresh team—were under orders to report today to the coach. A lecture by Yost this afternoon on football training methods was the only preliminary scheduled before the start of actual practice.

Yost will build his machine this year around eight men who have won their "M" in previous seasons. His hardest task will be the development of a quarterback to fill the shoes of Tommy Hughitt, lost to the team through graduation. Strong candidates for all other positions are in sight but there seems to be an unusual dearth of material for the quarter position.

All Michigan's scheduled games this fall will be played at Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, except the final engagement, with Pennsylvania, which will be staged at Philadelphia.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel tablets'—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "catarrhic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membrane lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressive nature is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced of their value for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

SAY INSTITUTE WILL BE HELPFUL

School Officials Believe They Will Offer Opportunities For City Teachers to Exchange Ideas.

City School Board Decides on One Each Month, Which is Minimum Number Under Law.

The school trustees of Fort Wayne have refused to comply with the new state law providing that institutes shall be held at least once a month by city and township school teachers and it will be interesting to note just what the developments will be in the case.

Attention was called some time ago to the fact that through a mistake of the author of the institute law, institutes were provided for township and city teachers but not for town school teachers. It is stated that the author intended to change the law so town teachers would have to hold institutes, but got muddled and excluded towns but included cities. Formerly the law provided only township teachers should attend institutes.

The Rushville school board has decided that the Rushville teachers shall hold institutes once a month, the minimum number provided for in the law. The first one was held the Saturday before school opened and the next one will be held Oct. 9.

Even though the city teachers were pushed into the institute work by mistake, it is felt by school officials here that the institutes will be very helpful. The institutes will be an opportunity for the teachers to confer over their various problems and exchange ideas, which will be of mutual advantage.

It is believed that the institutes would be just as helpful to the town teachers, but they will not have the opportunity of attending until the next legislature meets. The law requires that each teacher be paid for one extra day a month, providing the teacher attends the institute, and if they are absent, they will forfeit one day's wages.

Another inequality in the law, as pointed out here, is the fact that teachers are not paid alike and while one will get as much out of the institute as another, an entirely different scale of wages will be in operation. A teacher just beginning in the grade may not draw more than $2.50 a day and that amount will be paid the teacher for attending the city institute. And at the same time a high school teacher who is paid $5 or $6 a day will receive his regular wage for attending the same session.

The act passed by the 1915 General Assembly was an amendment and it reads as follows:

"That section (9) of the above entitled act be amended to read as follows: Section 9. At least one Saturday in each month during which the public schools may be in progress shall be devoted to township and city institutes, or model schools for the improvement of teachers; and two Saturdays may be appropriated at the discretion of the township trustees of any township or the board of school trustees or board of school commissioners of any city. Such institute shall be presided over by a teacher, or other person, delegated by the trustee of the township, or by the city superintendent or other person designated by him. The township trustee, board of school trustees, or board of school commissioners shall specify in a written contract with each teacher, that such teacher shall attend the full session of each institute contemplated herein, or forfeit one day's wages for every day's absence therefrom, and for each day's attendance at such institute each teacher shall receive the same wages as for one day's teaching: Provided, That no teacher shall receive such wages unless he or she shall attend the full session of such institute and perform the duty or duties assigned; and Provided, That provisions of this act shall not apply to school teachers who are engaged in teaching on Saturdays."

BLOW IN BALKANS MAY END THE WAR

By Blasting Road Through Asia, Austro-Germans May Bring Peace Before Next Spring

ALSO END BALKAN QUESTION

Sending of Troops Against Serbia is Believed to be Best Move to Stop Conflict

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, Sept. 18.—A mighty blow in the Balkans may end the war before spring. By blasting a road through Asia to Bulgaria, the Austro-German armies may settle not only the Balkan question but bring an early peace.

Both here and in Vienna the idea of a sudden stroke in the Balkans meets with popular approval. In Vienna foreign press reports that the Austro-Germans will soon send troops against Serbia are widely commented on. Vienna believes no other military move promises such an early ending of the war.

Military men here agree that it would be comparatively easy to defeat Serbia.

When I left Vienna this week, the Austrian capital was filled with Balkan visitors, especially with diplomats from Rumania and Bulgaria. Important negotiations were going on with Rumania. Reports in the English newspapers that Rumania would open the war on the side of the allies caused no concern. It was believed the Bulgarian armies would take the field at once if Rumania declared war on the Turks. The allies apparently have lost their chance of winning Bulgaria.

FORMER MAYOR EXPIRES

Harry R. Wallace Expires Suddenly in Indianapolis Friday Night

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—Harry R. Wallace, for years active in Republican politics in Marion County and mayor of Indianapolis from the time Lew Shank resigned Nov. 28, 1913, until Mayor Bell assumed office the following January, died suddenly of heart disease in William E. English's office in the Hotel English Building at 9:30 o'clock last night. He was an active contestant for the Republican nomination for mayor at the next primary and it is generally believed that he would have been successful.

man against the Lake Erie and Western railway company continues to occupy the attention of the circuit court. The case was sent here from Fayette county on a change of venue. The defense started introducing evidence this morning. The case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

There is not much local interest in the case except among the attorneys. At the first trial the jury disagreed and in this trial there is very little new testimony. The train crew of the train that hit the automobile in which Mr. Widman was riding just before the accident, was on the stand this morning. The plaintiff is represented by Raymond Springer of Connersville, B. F. Miller of this city and Eugene Miller of Indianapolis. The railway company is represented by John Tinsworth of this city and L. L. Broadbass of Connersville.

them vote under the names of three voters who previously testified today they were not in Indianapolis on election day.

That a Democrat, posing as a Progressive, was appointed a Progressive clerk of the tenth precinct of the fourth ward in Marion county and promised in advance to "help carry the precinct for Edward Lyons" was brought out in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell today.

Ernest Roeder, the witness, has pleaded guilty to the indictment, which also named Thomas Taggart, Edward Lyons and over 100 others, charging them with conspiring to steal the election.

Roeder said Bud Gilson and Dennis Bush, both defendants and the latter a city official, told him the night before the election there would be a vacancy in the tenth precinct and that he would be appointed Progressive clerk.

After his appointment, Roeder said, he told Don O'Conner, the precinct committeeman, that when the tally sheets were made out, he would kick O'Conner under the table as the names were called so the sheets would correspond.

They counted the Progressive and Republican votes first, he said, and when they came to the Democratic votes they "stalled along so as to wear out Dr. Caraway," whom Roeder said wasn't in on their game. After Caraway finally left Roeder said they fixed the primary for Lyons, Judge Markey and Pettijohn, a candidate for representative.

Peculiar Circumstances Develop
When Special Venire is Drawn
For Trabue-Martin Suit.

$5,000 DAMAGE CASE TO START

Widman, L. E. & W. Case Drags
Along in Circuit Court But Will go to Jury Tonight.

The first big case of local interest of the present term of court will start Monday in the circuit court, when the $5,000 damage suit of Mrs. Leora A. Trabue, wife of Harry Trabue, against Benjamin F. Martin will be called. In expectations of some difficulty in securing a jury, Judge Sparks ordered a special venire of fifteen names drawn for jury service.

An incident of rather peculiar circumstances attended the drawing of the names. Five of the fifteen men were neighbors of Mr. Martin, the defendant in the suit and two of these were his brothers-in-law, Amos Glidden and Charles Elwell. Samuel H. Trabue, father-in-law of Mrs. Trabue, the plaintiff, was also drawn for jury service. The jury commissioner did not allow any of the relatives of either party to be counted in the venire.

The special venire is as follows: John Hungerford, Orange township; Herman D. Miller, Anderson; A. H. Morris, Rushville; H. E. Gaffin, Union; W. P. White, Washington; I. O. Harrison, Anderson; J. W. Trowbridge, Center; Sullivan Hood, Ripley; W. R. Martin, Union; John Poppoon, Washington; Charles Holden, Noble, and O. P. Morton Hinchman, Union.

The damage suit against Mr. Martin is the outgrowth of an accident in which Mrs. Trabue alleges she was injured when the buggy in which she was riding was hit by the automobile driven by Martin. Her husband, Harry C. Trabue, has a similar suit pending against Mr. Martin.

In the complaint it is stated that the buggy was hurled into a ditch when struck by the machine. Negligence on the part of Mr. Martin is alleged as a basis for the suit. The parties to the action are well known. Mr. Martin lives in Washington township. The accident occurred near Mays in the summer of 1914.

HER "SHIP" COMES INTO TODAY

Miss Henrietta Coleman Receives
Refund on European Rail Ticket.

Miss Henrietta Coleman's "ship" literally came in this morning. She received the refund from European railroads which was paid for a ticket to tour Europe during the summer of 1914. It will recalled that Miss Coleman and her party of tourists which she was conducting were detained in Italy because of the outbreak of the war and had to sail for home at the first opportunity. Miss Coleman said the railroads promised then to refund the money, but she had about given up hope of ever receiving it. Miss Helen Scott and Miss Genevieve Brown, local school teachers, were in the party.

RED ADAMS GETS 65 DAYS AT FARM

Changes His Plea to Guilty and is Fined $25 and Costs to Which is Added 30 Days.

MAY DISMISS OTHER CHARGE

A change of plea to guilty to a charge of public intoxication resulted in Omer (Red) Adams drawing sixty-five days at the state penal farm. When arraigned yesterday, Adams entered a plea of not guilty but after thinking the matter over decided he was guilty, and was brought before Mayor Bebout this afternoon.

It was his fourth offense on the same charge. Mayor Bebout fined him $25 and costs and added thirty days. Adams stated he could not pay the fine, and will be taken to the farm Monday to begin his sentence.

The grand larceny charge in the circuit court growing out of the intoxication case, will likely be dismissed. Both charges were filed by George Bell, of near Mays.

LOST BOY KEPT TWO MEN BUSY

Will Spivey Restored David Powers
Age 8, of Dayton, Who is Visiting Here, to Relatives

BUT IT WAS SOME JOB AT THAT

Youthful Visitor Insisted Direction to Place he Was Visiting Was

Opposite to Real Way

David Powers, age eight years, son of Alfred Powers of Dayton, Ohio, formerly of this city, kept Will Spivey, Nightwatchman Ray Lakin, the police and the fire department busy last night for more than an hour when he got lost from home and insisted on going in just the opposite direction from the right one.

The little Powers boy started from Charles Berry's grocery store at the corner of Second and Harrison streets to go to the Gem theater. He never got there else there would have been no "lost-boy story" and Will Spivey would have been saved a dozen or so pounds of surplus flesh he lost in perspiration—or was it just plain sweat!

The boy wound up by Martin Kelly's blacksmith shop in South Main street and that's how Will Spivey worked into this story. Will hangs out at Oneal Brothers and he spied the boy standing in front of the blacksmith shop looking it over. He thought it looked familiar because his cousin "Bud" O'Neil, works there.

It didn't take a Pinkerton detective to tell the boy was lost. Will Spivey thought he would do a good turn and he questioned the boy. Young Mr. Powers remembered that he was visiting Micheal O'Neil's but he didn't even know his own sister's name.

Mr. Spivey decided that he would get the boy home. He led him around the business part of town trying to get the lad to tell him which way he ought to go to get home. It was some time before the boy told them he was visiting up at O'Neil's. When that very important fact was learned, Will called up O'Neil's and said he said he would either send or bring the boy home.

He started up Main street and found Ray Lakin, nightwatchman. Mr. Lakin said he would take the boy home in his automobile. They went to the corner of Third and Main streets and started to turn west into Third street.

But that was where the youthful visitor from Dayton showed that he had a mind of his own. He had decided that he was staying at some point east of the corner of Third and Main streets. He persisted and Nightwatchman Lakin and Will Spivey did likewise. They started in the direction of O'Neil's home but the boy eluded them and ran across Main street to the Mauzy company's store. Then the crowd down at the fire engine house gave the lost boy hunters the laugh.

But, to make a long story short, they finally persuaded him that he was wrong and took him to Ray Lakin's machine and he was restored to his father.

"LEMO" GLASS MUST DEPART

If State Food and Drug Department
Has Its Way, There Will be no
More at County Fair.

LETTER TO THE SECRETARY

Paper Cups or Other Individual Service Cups Will be Required Next

Year, it is Stated.

The lemonade glass, a familiar object at all stands and concessions at the county fair, will pass out of existence, if the state food and drug department is to have its way. The fate of the glass is sealed and it will go the same way in which the old tin cup went.

The state department has been attempting to better sanitary conditions, surrounding stands and the latest decree is that next year and in years to come vendors of lemonade and all soft drinks at fairs and circuses shall use paper cups or other individual service cups. H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, has written J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush county fair, complimenting him on the conditions of the stands at the last fair, but urging that they be even better for next year.

In his letter Mr. Barnard states that next year all applicants for stand privileges should be told that sanitary cups will be required, and that the department will see that the order is enforced. The order was issued this year, but came too late for many of the stand men and concession people coming from other states. The order was enforced here as near as possible, but it was impossible to make all comply with the order. The warning is thus given now for next year that there will be no excuse.

The letter from the food and drug commissioners is as follows: "I am glad to be able to tell you that the sanitary conditions at the food and privilege stands at the fairs throughout the state this season have been much better than in other years. This statement also applies to the character of the foods and drinks served. We believe we have made material progress in the way of cleanliness and in the protection of the health of the public.

"We were not wholly successful in eliminating unwashed and dirty glasses, but we did see much improvement. Another year we shall not allow the use of glasses for serving cool drinks, and it may be well for you to inform applicants for concession space that hereafter we shall require them to use paper cups or other individual service cups.

"Thanking you for your co-operation during the season of 1915, and anticipation your effective help in 1916, I am,

Yours truly,

H. E. BARNARD,
State Food and Drug Commissioner.

ADMITS THAT HE PERJURED SELF

But Ernest Roeder, State Witness
in Bell Case, Says That he Was Told to Do So.

BEFORE OTHER GRAND JURY

Exposes System by Which Votes
Were Bought in Election—

Three Voted Falsely.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—When the defense in the Mayor Joseph E. Bell's election corruption conspiracy trial today cross-examined Ernest Roeder, a confessed conspirator who testified to buying votes on orders from higher-ups, he admitted that before a previous grand jury he had testified the election was without fraud.

"Then you perjured yourself," shouted attorney Ryan.

"Yes, but I was told to do so," replied Roeder.

The defense could not get this answer off the record but the state was not allowed to bring out who told Roeder to perjur himself.

Court adjourned at noon until Monday.

On election day Roeder bought and paid for votes at Bud Gibson's precinct, he testified today. The money was given him by Bud Gibson after Gibson had talked with Herman Adams and Mayor Bell, he said.

Roeder admitted that he gave his list of twelve names of alleged voters to the poll taker when the latter called at Gibson's saloon. Gibson and Roeder were partners in the saloon business.

Roeder exposed a system by which Pat Stewart, inspector, would give checks to voters. He said he and Gibson redeemed these checks for $1 or $2.

"We stilled them for $1 when we could," he said.

He admitted that he took 25 of these redeemable checks into Stewart so Stewart could pass them out again.

Mayor Bell, chief Perrott and Herman Adams visited the polls and talked to the party workers, said Roeder.

Following one of Bell's visit, Gibson had more money than he had before, Roeder said. He testified of sending in three repeaters from Goose Costello's auto and having

RETURN FROM GIRL'S FUNERAL AND FIND THAT HER FATHER HAD DIED

Relatives Tell of Ravages of Typhoid
Fever in Family of Leander
Hilligoss, Once Local Man.

SECOND DAUGHTER IS DYING

Relatives here of Leander Hilligoss, formerly of this county, who went to the funeral of his youngest daughter, Ruth, Friday, at Hazelrigg, Boone county, were doubly sorrowful when they returned home Friday evening because Mr. Hilligoss had died of typhoid fever, the same disease which killed Ruth, while the girl's body was being buried.

Besides two deaths, in as many days in the family, a second daughter, Agnes, the eldest, was afflicted with the same disease and local relatives reported today that the physician said Friday afternoon that she could not live more than twenty-four hours.

It was known that Mr. Hilligoss' condition was very critical and it was impossible for him to attend the funeral of his daughter. It was a deep shock to the widow and other survivors to return from the girl's funeral and learn that her father had died during their absence.

Mr. Hilligoss was about sixty years old and was born and reared in this county and lived about a mile and one-half south of here. He left here about twenty-five years. He was a cousin of D. M. Hilligoss, living near Rushville, and a brother of George Hilligoss, living near Moscow.

Mr. Hilligoss is survived by the widow and daughter and the following brothers, besides George: Omer, Alexandria, North Dakota, Elmer and Oscar of Indianapolis, Sullivan of Galveston, Texas and Clayton of Tacoma, Washington. He also had one sister living in Muncie, Ind.

Mrs. Hackleman resolved to go to the roast as soon as she heard of the plans. She did go, and was honored by a seat in a rocking chair on the platform. With her sat Ann Bowles of Milroy, ninety-four years of age. Mrs. Hackleman is ninety-three. The two aged ladies listened attentively and at the close of James E.

Watson's speech he turned and delivered to them a beautiful appreciation and tribute. Then he bent forward and pressed his lips against their hands, in a chivalric movement of which no court in the old world need have been ashamed.

Mrs. Hackleman has attended ox roasts before. For instance, in 1864, she was one of those who served a huge crowd with roast beef on the old fair grounds, near the corner of Western avenue and Eleventh street. There was another ox roast at the same place in 1868. It was conceded, however, that the Rushville event outstripped all others, late or early.

The resolution of Mrs. Hackleman to attend the Rushville fete was characteristic. Despite her weight of years her eyes are bright, her sense of humor is keen and her interest in the progress of events and the splendors of the physical world seem almost undimmed.

VISITORS ARE WELL IMPRESSED

Two Newspapers Comment on Rushville Cluster Lights and Condition of "Dustless Streets."

SHELBYVILLE LIKES THEM

Rushville made an impression on many visitors here Wednesday and some of them broke into print because newspaper men were the ones who were impressed. The editor of the Newcastle Courier says that Newcastle merchants saw a lot more cluster lights at Rushville. Newcastle wants cluster lights badly and has petitioned the Henry county commissioners to buy and install some ornamental lights.

The editor of the Shelbyville Republican commented on the condition of the streets and the fact that they were so well preserved and there was no dust flying due to the use of oil.

"The hundreds of people who were in Rushville on Wednesday of this week," he says, "were agreeably impressed by the appearance of the 'dustless town.' Most every street in the city is oiled and oiled with the right kind of material, not oil pumped out of a local well or drippings from gas works, but oil that has had been boiled into a very large percent of asphalt. The result of the oiling in Rushville is that the streets have not been worn this summer, there has been no dust and the people have not had to sprinkle the streets three to five times a day. When the contract was let last spring for the oiling of the streets in that town the contract called for a first and second oiling. The job was so thoroughly done that the second oiling was not required."

A Double Basis

The talk of peace now has both financial and religious basis. In the first place the fall of the value of the pound sterling is significant, as England was supposed to be the strongest financial power among the belligerents and the one to supply money to all the Allies. It is impossible to fail to see in this situation a factor for making peace.

With regard to the efforts of the Pope to bring the warring nations to a discussion of terms of peace, it was pointed out that he is highly interested in the restoration of Poland, which is a Catholic country. As a matter of fact the Allies are anti-Catholic, Russia being completely in opposition to the Holy See while anti-clericalism rules in France, and England has its own state body in opposition to the Roman body. On the other hand Austria is a Catholic country and in Germany there are 20,000,000 Roman Catholics who enjoy equal rights with the Protestants and share in the dignities of state.

He Means Well

The Greensburg Times, a Blown-in-the-bottle, free trade, Democracy or die newspaper, has quite a time trying to dope out how many people were here for the ox roast. The Times expounds at length about the office-mad politicians and winds up by getting no place, except to say that newspaper prediction ranged from 7,000 to 10,000, with the exception that the Rushville Jacksonian guessed it at from 3,500 to 4,000. The Times editor had not yet read Blodgett's story, which put the crowd at from 8,000 to 10,000, or he would have incorporated that too. Or would he? It is much to be regretted that the Times editor could not have been here. He needs a chance to see a big crowd once.

"Meanwhile, stand by Wilson," he concludes, which was considerably off the point but he can not be criticized for such an unseemly digression.

Humor Going to Waste

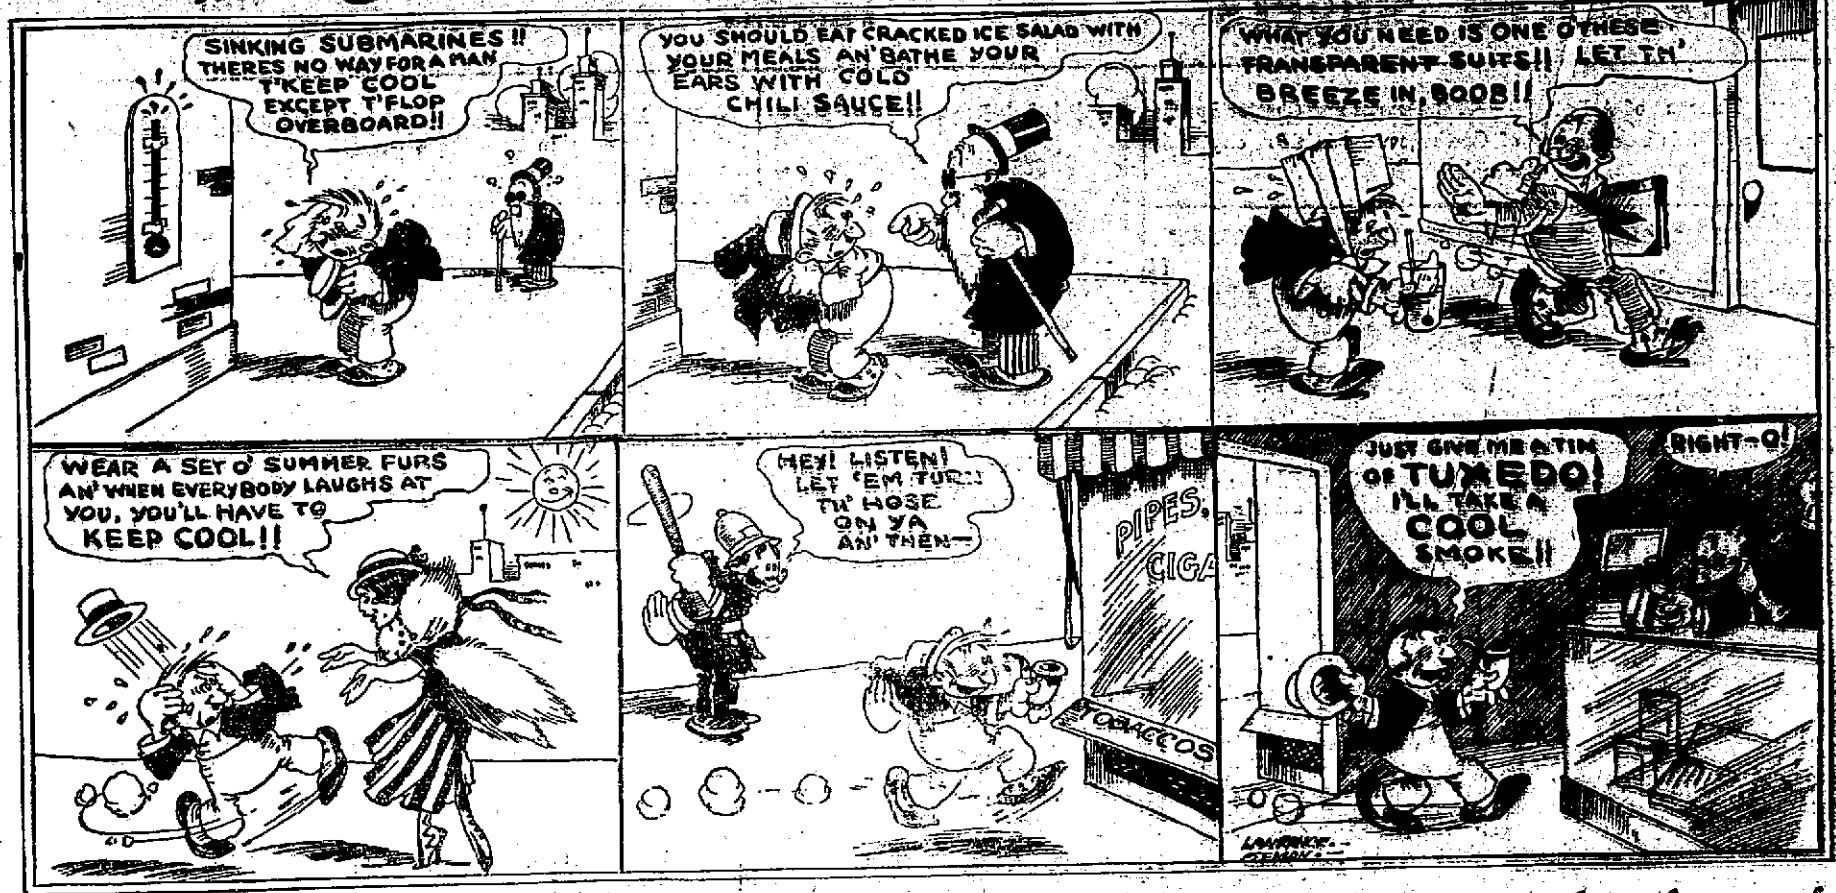

One of the Richmond newspapermen here for the ox roast Wednesday said in his paper Thursday that the conservative estimate placed on the crowd was 10,000, but that half of them were women and children; only 4,500 of the other 5,000 were voters, that 3,000 of the men were politicians and "wheel-horses." He states it as though it were positive fact. Whether he had a counting machine and means to place each one of the 10,000 persons in his or her class is not known. He probably did not know that but two of the ten isles in the serving tent were used by women and children and that there were not enough of them, but their isle was used by men frequently. Instead of being a sporting editor, he should be working for Puck where his humor would be appreciated.

Teetotalism has a new ally in the fighting sheriff of Hudson County, N. Y. Now Kinkead has taken to making the rounds of the prison and making the prisoners swear to abstain forever from the use of intoxicating liquors. And it can't be denied that he is striking right at the chief root of crime.

The net balance in the Federal Treasury at the close of business Saturday September 4 was $51,922,932 as compared with a balance of $130,038,890 on the same date two years ago when Republican revenue laws and appropriations were still in force. The deficit for the first two months of the present fiscal year amounted to $30,003,152.

MAKES APPEAL TO YOUNG MEN

Republican State Chairman Hays Sends Letter Urging Stronger Interest in Politics.

URGES THEM TO JOIN A PARTY

Then Makes Vigorous Plea For Their Union With Great Republican Party of Prosperity.

(Special to Daily Republican.) Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican state committee, today issued an open letter to the young men in Indiana, appealing strongly for "a larger interest in the politics of the country." This letter is the second edition of one issued a year ago, during the heat of the 1914 campaign. In his appeal to the young men of the state, Chairman Hays, head of one of the two big political organizations of Indiana, pleads with the young voters to actively interest themselves in the affairs of "some party." He then makes a vigorous plea for them to join "our fighting force and become a potent part of this great Republican party of protection and prosperity."

Mr. Hays' letter to the young men

of Indiana, in part, follows:

Become interested in politics. What we need more than all else in this country is an increased participation by the good citizens of the country in the actual politics of the nation. Perform your duty of citizenship in time of peace as you would in time of war. To which party you may now be inclined is of less importance than that you seek the truth, and finding it, act, and then act continually.

I have an absolute conviction that if the citizens of the country interest themselves sufficiently in the politics of the nation, the right principles will be practiced and able and conscientious candidates elected.

Be not influenced by prejudice nor moved by passion. Study the histories of the great parties; see what they have accomplished in the past and what they promise for the future, and then, in every instance, make up your mind and act accordingly. And let us be certain that we "join ourselves to no party that does not follow the flag and keep step to the music of the Union."

Personally, after the most conscientious study, I became convinced that the Republican party has been the most potent power of practical progression ever devised by men; that it has formulated the statutes, written the great laws, advanced the theories and carried out the great principles that have made this country "the Mystery of the Ages, the mightiest miracle of time."

The Republican party is the party of the future and shall continue to be the one agency in this country to apply to new conditions the wisdom of experience and the efficacy of honest, zealous service. Its past performance of fifty years is the guarantee of its future fulfillment. The party of Abraham Lincoln can be trusted now "to be true even as he was true" to the rights of men and their full freedom.

And so to the young men in Indiana I appeal: First, to actively interest yourselves in the affairs of some party; and second, and most earnestly and sincerely, I urge you to join our fighting force and become a potent part of this great Republican party of protection and prosperity, with an absolutely equal voice and full participation in the management of the party's affairs with every other man in the party. And this I ask for a purpose far greater than the success of the party for the ultimate goal "that no harm shall come to the Republic."

GAME PLAYED IN RAIN WON BY ELKS
 Proved Better Ducks Than Red Men and Handed Them Shut Out, Winning by 12 to 0.

BIG DOINGS IN SECOND FRAME
 The Elks proved better ducks than the Red Men yesterday afternoon and won an alleged ball game by a score of 12 to 0. The game was played in the rain and was slowed down considerably because of the wet condition of the grounds.
 The Elks had one big inning—the second—when they scored eight runs. Stoops, pitching for the Red Men, evidently believed that the rain would stop the game and the team did not put up much of a defense. When the game was continued the runs made in this inning were enough to win. In the second inning fourteen men faced Stoops. He issued five bases on balls and with five hits, netting the Elks eight runs. It was an awful inning, and was played in the rain at that.
 Orme, pitching for the Elks, held the Red Men safe all the way. Not a man reached third base and they had only one chance to score and that was in the last inning. In this frame the Red Men got as far as second base with none out. They were unable to put the run across, however as the next three proved easy.

IOWA HOPES FOR WINNING TEAM

Coach Hawley Believes he Will Put Across Championship Team in His Final Year
MANY OLD MEN WILL BE BACK
 (By United Press.)
 Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 18.—Hawley's hardy Hawkeyes have set their cap to catch a conference championship. This year will be his last as an Iowa coach and it has always been his ambition, carried through five years behind the Old Gold, to help coach a title team.
 Of Iowa's 1911 team backfield quartet but one man, Parsons, will be gone, Gross, Donnelly, Wills and Kervick, all letter men from last year, will return. In addition there will be Laun, Davis and Zastrop from last year's freshman team. Davis will be found in the regular lineup, probably alternating with Gross between half and quarter.
 Captain Barron remains the mainstay of the line, and it is here that Coach Hawley is to have his problem. Wilson and Jacobsen are the only other veterans. The chief trouble is to be in filling the end positions. Erickson may develop into a find for one of the wings. Kelley and Bowlesby, freshmen last year, and Grub and Triplett, two of the 1914 scrubs, are all likely candidates. McKee is a big man and may find a place in the line. He was freshman fullback last year. Wyland, from the freshman team, is looked upon as a certainty for center.

MICHIGAN BRIGADE BEING MOBILIZED

Tuesday Actual Training of Coach Fielding H. Yost's Squad Will be Started

EIGHT "M" MEN ARE IN FOLD

(By United Press.)
 Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18.—Coach Fielding H. Yost today was mobilizing Michigan's 1915 gridiron brigade. Tuesday actual training of the squad will start.
 Thirty-three men—the pick of those eligible from last year's varsity, from the reserves and from the All-Fresh team—were under orders to report today to the coach. A lecture by Yost this afternoon on football training methods was the only preliminary scheduled before the start of actual practice.
 Yost will build his machine this year around eight men who have won their "M" in previous seasons. His hardest task will be the development of a quarterback to fill the shoes of Tommy Hughitt, lost to the team through graduation. Strong candidates for all other positions are in sight but there seems to be an unusual dearth of material for the quarter position.
 All Michigan's scheduled games this fall will be played at Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, except the final engagement, with Pennsylvania, which will be staged at Philadelphia.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)
 "The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products accumulate in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."
 "But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. These harmless vegetable tablets tend to improve tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)
 Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.
 "Sentinal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no harsh-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinal tablets" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a bit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize the advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.
 Sentinal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membrane lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

SAY INSTITUTE WILL BE HELPFUL

School Officials Believe They Will Offer Opportunities For City Teachers to Exchange Ideas.

City School Board Decides on One Each Month, Which is Minimum Number Under Law.

The school trustees of Fort Wayne have refused to comply with the new state law providing that institutes shall be held at least once a month by city and township school teachers and it will be interesting to note just what the developments will be in the case.

Attention was called some time ago to the fact that through a mistake of the author of the institute law, institutes were provided for township and city teachers but not for town school teachers. It is stated that the author intended to change the law so town teachers would have to hold institutes, but got muddled and excluded towns but included cities. Formerly the law provided only township teachers should attend institutes.

The Rushville school board has decided that the Rushville teachers shall hold institutes once a month, the minimum number provided for in the law. The first one was held the Saturday before school opened and the next one will be held Oct. 9.

Even though the city teachers were pushed into the institute work by mistake, it is felt by school officials here that the institutes will be very helpful. The institutes will be an opportunity for the teachers to confer over their various problems and exchange ideas, which will be of mutual advantage.

It is believed that the institutes would be just as helpful to the town teachers, but they will not have the opportunity of attending until the next legislature meets. The law requires that each teacher be paid for one extra day a month, providing the teacher attends the institute, and if they are absent, they will forfeit one day's wages.

Another inequality in the law, as pointed out here, is the fact that teachers are not paid alike and while one will get as much out of the institute as another, an entirely different scale of wages will be in operation. A teacher just beginning in the grade may not draw more than $2.50 a day and that amount will be paid the teacher for attending the city institute. And at the same time a high school teacher who is paid $5 or $6 a day will receive his regular wage for attending the same session.

The act passed by the 1915 General Assembly was an amendment and it reads as follows:

"That section (9) of the above entitled act be amended to read as follows: Section 9. At least one Saturday in each month during which the public schools may be in progress shall be devoted to township and city institutes, or model schools for the improvement of teachers; and two Saturdays may be appropriated at the discretion of the township trustees of any township or the board of school trustees or board of school commissioners of any city. Such institute shall be presided over by a teacher, or other person, delegated by the trustee of the township, or by the city superintendent or other person designated by him. The township trustee, board of school trustees, or board of school commissioners shall specify in a written contract with each teacher, that such teacher shall attend the full session of each institute contemplated herein, or forfeit one day's wages for every day's absence therefrom, and for each day's attendance at such institute each teacher shall receive the same wages as for one day's teaching: Provided, That no teacher shall receive such wages unless he or she shall attend the full session of such institute and perform the duty or duties assigned; and Provided, That provisions of this act shall not apply to school teachers who are engaged in teaching on Saturdays."

BLOW IN BALKANS MAY END THE WAR

By Blasting Road Through Asia, Austro-Germans May Bring Peace Before Next Spring

ALSO END BALKAN QUESTION

Sending of Troops Against Serbia is Believed to be Best Move to Stop Conflict

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Berlin, Sept. 18.—A mighty blow in the Balkans may end the war before spring. By blasting a road through Asia to Bulgaria, the Austro-German armies may settle not only the Balkan question but bring an early peace.

Both here and in Vienna the idea of a sudden stroke in the Balkans meets with popular approval. In Vienna foreign press reports that the Austro-Germans will soon send troops against Serbia are widely commented on. Vienna believes no other military move promises such an early ending of the war.

Military men here agree that it would be comparatively easy to defeat Serbia.

When I left Vienna this week, the Austrian capital was filled with Balkan visitors, especially with diplomats from Rumania and Bulgaria. Important negotiations were going on with Rumania. Reports in the English newspapers that Rumania would open the war on the side of the allies caused no concern. It was believed the Bulgarian armies would take the field at once if Rumania declared war on the Turks. The allies apparently have lost their chance of winning Bulgaria.

FORMER MAYOR EXPIRES

Harry R. Wallace Expires Suddenly in Indianapolis Friday Night

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—Harry R. Wallace, for years active in Republican politics in Marion County and mayor of Indianapolis from the time Lew Shank resigned Nov. 28, 1913, until Mayor Bell assumed office the following January, died suddenly of heart disease in William E. English's office in the Hotel English building at 9:30 o'clock last night. He was an active contestant for the Republican nomination for mayor at the next primary and it is generally believed that he would have been successful.

man against the Lake Erie and Western railway company continues to occupy the attention of the circuit court. The case was sent here from Fayette county on a change of venue. The defense started introducing evidence this morning. The case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

There is not much local interest in the case except among the attorneys. At the first trial the jury disagreed and in this trial there is very little new testimony. The train crew of the train that hit the automobile in which Mr. Widman was riding just before the accident, was on the stand this morning. The plaintiff is represented by Raymond Springer of Connersville, B. F. Miller of this city and Eugene Miller of Indianapolis. The railway company is represented by John Tittworth of this city and L. them vote under the names of three voters who previously testified today they were not in Indianapolis on election day.

That a Democrat, posing as a Progressive, was appointed a Progressive clerk of the tenth precinct of the fourth ward in Marion county and promised in advance to "help carry the precinct for Edward Lyons" was brought out in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell today.

Ernest Roeder, the witness, has pleaded guilty to the indictment, which also named Thomas Taggart, Edward Lyons and over 100 others, charging them with conspiring to steal the election.

Roeder said Bud Gilson and Dennis Bush, both defendants and the latter a city official, told him the night before the election there would be a vacancy in the tenth precinct and that he would be appointed Progressive clerk.

After his appointment, Roeder said, he told Don O'Connor, the precinct committeeman, that when the tally sheets were made out, he would kick O'Connor under the table as the names were called so the sheets would correspond.

They counted the Progressive and Republican votes first, he said, and when they came to the Democratic votes they "stalled along so as to wear out Dr. Caraway," whom Roeder said wasn't in on their game. After Caraway finally left Roeder said, they fixed the primary for Lyons, Judge Markey and Pettijohn, a candidate for representative.
